

Access to Learning: Best Practices for Tutoring Adults in Reading

These movies feature tutor-learner pairs demonstrating evidence-based reading strategies. You can watch them to learn more about reading research and to pick up tutoring strategies to try in your own lessons.

Here are three ways to get to the tutoring movies

- YouTube – San Jose Public Library – Partners in Reading

<http://www.tinyurl.com/literacytutoring>

- Pinterest – Santa Clara City Library – Read Santa Clara

<http://www.tinyurl.com/adultliteracytutors>

- California Library Literacy Services: Tutor Resources

<http://www.pinterest.com/cllstraining>

Amy Prevedel and Kathy St. John co-created these movies as consultants for the San José Public Library's Partners in Reading adult literacy program and the Santa Clara City Library's Read Santa Clara adult literacy program. The project was funded by a grant from the U.S. Institute of Museum and Library Services under the provisions of the Library Services and Technology Act, administered in California by the State Librarian.